REPORTING CHANGES TO THE IRS

You must report changes in your name, address, purposes, operations or sources of financial support on your annual information return. You may also report these changes to the TE/GE Exempt Organizations Determinations Office at the following address: Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 2508, Cincinnati, OH 45201. However, such reporting does not relieve you of the obligation to report the changes on your annual return.

TIP: Attach copies of any state certified articles of incorporation, or if an association signed constitution, bylaws, or other organizational document showing the changes. Trusts should provide trust instruments. If state certified copies or signed governing documents are not available, an authorized officer may certify that the governing document provided is a complete and accurate copy of the original document.

Please use your employer identification number on all returns and in all correspondence with the Internal Revenue Service.

FILING REQUIREMENTS

In your exemption letter, we indicated whether you must file Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax. If your exemption letter states that you are not required to file Form 990, you are exempt from these requirements. Otherwise, if your gross receipts are normally more than $25,000, you must file Form 990 or Form 990-EZ with the Ogden Submission Processing Center, Ogden, UT, 84201-0027.

You are eligible to file Form 990-EZ if your gross receipts are normally between $25,000 and $100,000, and your total assets are less than $250,000. You must file the complete Form 990 if your gross receipts are over $100,000, or your total assets are over $250,000. The Form 990 instructions show how to compute your "normal" receipts.

CITIZENS FOR THE REPUBLIC INC

Organizations With Gross Receipts of $25,000 or Less

For tax periods beginning after December 31, 2006, you must file an annual electronic Form 990-N ("e-Postcard") if your gross receipts are normally $25,000 or less. Alternatively, you may file a complete Form 990 Package if we send one to you. For information on filing the new electronic Form 990-N ("e-Postcard"), visit our Web site at www.irs.gov/eo.

Due Date of Return or Annual Electronic Notice

Your return or annual electronic notice is due by the 15th day of the fifth month after the end of your annual accounting period. There are penalties for failing to file a complete return timely. For additional information on penalties, see the Form 990 instructions or call our toll free number.

Revocation of Tax-Exempt Status

For tax periods beginning after December 31, 2006, your tax-exempt status will be revoked as of the filing due date for the third year if you fail to file for three consecutive years Form 990, Form 990-EZ, or the electronic Form 990-N.

If your tax-exempt status is revoked because you failed to file, you must reapply for exemption and pay the appropriate user fee.

UNRELATED BUSINESS INCOME TAX RETURN

If you receive more than $1,000 annually in gross receipts from a regular trade or business, you may be subject to Unrelated Business Income Tax and required to file Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. Special rules for organizations exempt under sections 501(c)(7), (9), (17) and (19) are described in Publication 598, Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations.

There are several exceptions to the tax on unrelated business income:

1. Income you receive from the performance of your exempt activity,
2. Income from fundraisers conducted by volunteer workers, or where donated merchandise is sold, and
3. Income from routine investments such as certificates of deposits, savings accounts, or stock dividends.

There are special rules for income derived from real estate or other investments purchased with borrowed funds. This income is called "debt financed" income. For additional information regarding unrelated business income tax, see Publication 598, Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations, or call our toll free number shown above.

PUBLIC INSPECTION OF APPLICATION AND INFORMATION RETURN

Letter 948 (DO/CG)

CITIZENS FOR THE REPUBLIC INC

You are required to make your annual information return, Form 990 or Form 990-EZ, available for public inspection for three years after the later of the due date of the return, or the date the return is filed. You are also required to make available for public inspection your exemption application, any supporting documents, and your exemption letter. You must also provide copies of these documents to any individual, upon written or in person request, without charge other than reasonable fees for copying and postage.

You may fulfill this requirement by placing these documents on the Internet. Penalties may be imposed for failure to comply with these requirements. Additional information is available in Publication 557, Tax-Exempt Status for Your Organization, or call our toll free number shown above.

EXCESS BENEFIT TRANSACTIONS
(Applies to 501(c)(4) organizations)

Excess benefit transactions are governed by section 4958 of the Code. Excess benefit transactions involve situations where a section 501(c)(4) organization provides an unreasonable benefit to a person who is in a position to exercise substantial influence over the organization's affairs. If you believe there may be an excess benefit transaction in which you are involved, you should report the transaction on Form 990 or Form 990-EZ. For information on how to correct and report this transaction, see the instructions for Form 990 and Form 990-EZ, or call our toll free number shown above.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

If you have employees, you are subject to income tax withholding and the social security taxes imposed under the Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA). You are required to withhold Federal income tax from your employee's wages and you are required to pay FICA on each employee who is paid more than $100 in wages during a calendar year. To know how much income tax to withhold, you should have a Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, on file for each employee.

You are also liable for tax under the Federal Unemployment Tax (FUTA) for each employee you pay $50 or more during a calendar quarter if, during the current or preceding calendar year, you had one or more employees at any time in each of 20 calendar weeks or you paid wages of $1,500 or more in any calendar quarter.

Employment taxes are reported on Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return. The requirements for withholding, depositing, reporting and paying employment taxes are explained in Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, (Publication 15), and Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, (Publication 15-A). These publications explain your tax responsibilities as an employer.

Part II, Item 1 - Activities and Operational Information

The following is a statement providing information on the establishment of Citizens for the Republic, Inc. (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "the Corporation") and on the Corporation's purposes, activities to date and proposed activities. Because the Corporation is a new organization and its operation level shall depend on the availability of funds, the following description of planned activities are those for which the Corporation was established and proposes to carry out. We further include legal authorities, where useful, which support the Corporation's Application for Recognition of Exemption (Form 1024) as an organization qualifying under Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code and the Regulations promulgated there under.

I. Introduction

Will President Ronald Wilson Reagan and the Reagan Revolution - the generation that built the strongest economy in the world and tore down walls erected by tyrants and dictators - be remembered for its accomplishments? Believing that President Reagan and his principles about government, public policy and world politics offer guidance and a better future for the citizens of the United States, Citizens for the Republic, Inc. will research and prepare information, data, statistics, and analysis - to be distributed to the public - recounting the Reagan agenda and educating the American public on how that agenda and President Reagan's principles effect public policy issues of today. Citizens for the Republic, Inc. will compile research, and produce and publish informative materials about such topics and it will educate the public on the means and methods by which that philosophy can influence government decision-making in America, and world-wide.

Citizens for the Republic, Inc. is a newly-formed corporation, duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the Nonstock Corporation Act of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The specific and primary objects and purposes of the Corporation, which is not formed for pecuniary profit or financial gain, shall be to receive, administer and expend funds for educational purposes and for the purpose of promoting social welfare within the meaning of Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 or the corresponding provisions of any future United States Internal Revenue laws. Specifically, to educate the general public about issues of interest to American citizens concerning the vision of President Ronald W. Reagan concerning the United States Government social and domestic policy, in particular, international affairs, unfunded liabilities in Social Security, Medicare, and other government retirement trust funds, and the long term viability of such trust funds and programs, and to provide political and policy options consistent with the President Reagan's vision in these and related matters.

No part of the net earnings of the Corporation shall inure to the benefit of any director or officer of the Corporation, or any private individual (except that reasonable compensation may be paid for services rendered to or for the Corporation in furtherance of one or more of its purposes). The Corporation shall not participate in, nor intervene in (including the publication or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for public office.

Upon dissolution of the Corporation or the winding up of its affairs, the assets of the Corporation shall be distributed exclusively to charitable, educational, or civic organizations which then qualify as organizations described in Sections 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

II. Activities

Citizens for the Republic, Inc. is an educational, civic and social welfare organization which has as its goal to educate the general public about issues of interest to American citizens concerning the vision and agenda of President Ronald W. Reagan, as that vision and agenda concerns the United States Government social, domestic and international policy, in particular, stopping the advance of tyrannical dictators and dictatorial regimes, domestic unfunded liabilities in Social Security, Medicare, and other government retirement trust funds, and the long term viability of such trust funds, the federal tax code and limited government in general. The Corporation intends to achieve its goal by (1) educating the American public and local, state and federal officials about these issues; (2) collecting, monitoring, and serving as a clearing house for information and data about such issues; (3) researching, analyzing and educating the public about legislation and other public policy that has a direct impact on American citizens; and (4) promoting the passage or defeat of legislation related to such issues.

As of the date of this Application, the members of the Board of Directors of Citizens for the Republic, Inc. have been concentrating their time and attention on organizational matters and in planning for the future. Following the incorporation of the Corporation and first public introduction of the Corporation in February, 2008, the officers of the Corporation are planning a grass roots fundraising effort. It is anticipated that once approved as a tax-exempt organization, the Corporation will begin raising money through an internet web site and direct mailings. Citizens for the Republic, Inc. anticipates that its average donation will be approximately $100.00. Craigan Shirley, the Corporation's President, has loaned the corporation funds to cover its start-up administrative costs.

It is anticipated that the primary vehicles to be used in communicating the Corporation's educational material will be through direct mail, television, radio, and the print media. The material, as well as any particular issues to be addressed by the Corporation, will be identified by the Board of Directors. Thereupon, the officers of the Corporation will be responsible for obtaining from experts in the disciplines or issues to be addressed the requisite research and supporting material; and for the development and production of the educational material and public service messages to be broadcast or published by the Corporation. The officers of the Corporation will select any consultants whose assistance may be required in formulating and articulating the Corporation's messages. Those consultants will be selected based on (a) the need for their assistance in furthering the exempt function activities of the Corporation, (b) their demonstrated record of expertise and experience in their discipline, and (c) the reasonableness of their fees within the community of consultants having comparable skills and abilities. The officers of the Corporation will be responsible for the coordination of these programmatic activities.

Once funding is secured and the issues and messages are refined, the Corporation plans to conduct a scientific survey or poll to prioritize the issues described above from a sample drawn from the American public. The Corporation will disseminate its survey through its internet web site and through print media. Following the survey, the Corporation will conduct research projects on key issues to establish the most economical long term solutions to the prioritized public policy challenges. The Corporation will publish and disseminate the results of its research through electronic and print media to encourage the American public to consider long term consequences and solutions to policy decisions. As funding becomes available, the Corporation will develop a quarterly report to disseminate its information to the public, educational institutions, media representatives, and public policy leaders.

As resources and momentum build, the Corporation plans to lease approximately 1,500-2,000 square feet of commercial office space in the metropolitan District of Columbia area to serve as a clearing house for legal, statistical, educational and regulatory information relative to the exempt function of the Corporation. The Corporation will monitor state and federal legislation that affect long-term public and fiscal policy, law and trends, as well as competitiveness issues. This information will be used to further the Corporation's mission, and of addressing public policy issues related to these issues.

The programmatic materials to be produced by the Corporation will educate the public about the fiscal and public policy issues described above. From time to time, those messages may address legislation or legislative proposals relevant to those issues. They may address the opinion of the Corporation on those issues and advocate a preferred solution to alternative approaches to those issues. They may also encourage the public to voice their opinions about the issues and solutions thereto to their government. Staff positions, including paid or volunteer staff, will be filled when deemed reasonable and necessary to further the objects and purposes of the Corporation and when funding permits.

The educational material to be published and broadcast by Citizens for the Republic, Inc. will be designed and produced to be informative and educational. The Board of Directors and officers of the Corporation will have the responsibility for, and will take an active role in the development of, all the educational materials and programs of the Corporation. The Board intends that the educational material and programs will be presented and conducted in such a manner that a sufficiently full and fair exposition of the pertinent facts concerning a particular issue are presented permitting an individual to form an independent opinion or conclusion, even if a particular viewpoint or position may be advocated by the Corporation. Furthermore, the Board of Directors will assure that the Corporation shall not participate in, nor intervene in (including the publication or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for public office.

No program material has been produced by the Corporation as at the date of this Application for Recognition of Exemption. No contracts or undertakings have yet been entered into. No brochures, pamphlets, or similar printed material have been drafted or designed to date.

III. Discussion of Legal Precedent

Citizens for the Republic, Inc. is organized and will be operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare within the meaning of Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

According to its Articles of Incorporation, Citizens for the Republic, Inc. is organized exclusively for educational purposes and for the purpose of promoting the common good and general welfare within the meaning of Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code. No part of the net earnings of the Corporation shall inure to the benefit of any director or officer of the Corporation, or any private individual (except that reasonable compensation may be paid for services rendered to or for the Corporation affecting one or more of its purposes.) Additionally, the Articles of Incorporation prohibit the Corporation from participating or intervening in (including the publication or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for public office. Finally, upon its dissolution, the assets of the Corporation are required to be distributed to one or more organizations which then qualify under Sections 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The activities and operations of Citizens for the Republic, Inc. will be primarily "educational" within the meaning employed in the Code and Regulations. The term "educational" is defined in the Regulations as "the instruction of the public on subjects useful to the individual and beneficial to the community." Reg. §1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(3)(b). Further, the Internal Revenue Service has clearly stated that organizations which conduct studies or investigations and disseminate the results in order to instruct the public on issues have an educational and charitable purpose. Rev. Rul. 67-148, 1967-1 C.B. 132. It is also well established that organizations that conduct research projects in order to contribute to the advancement of education in a particular area serve an educational purpose. Rev. Rul. 67-41, 1967-1 C.B. 121. In addition, the Internal Revenue Service has stated that organizations which conduct studies or investigations and disseminate the results, in order to instruct the public on social issues, have an educational and charitable purpose. Rev. Rul. 67-148, 1967-1, C.B. 132.

Section 501 (c) (4) of the Code provides for the exemption from Federal income tax of civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare. Section 1.501(c) (4) -1(a) (2) of the Income Tax Regulations provides that an organization is operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare if it is primarily engaged in promoting in some way the common good and general welfare of the people of the community. An organization that is organized and operated to inform the public by educational methods on a subject of public interest and concern may be exempt under Section 501(c) (4) of the Code even though the subject evokes controversy and even though the organization advocates a particular viewpoint and seeks changes in law to reflect such viewpoint. The education of the public on such a subject is deemed beneficial to the community because society benefits from an informed citizenry. The seeking of legislation germane to the organization's programs is recognized by the Regulations cited above as a permissible means of attaining social welfare purposes. See, Rev. Rul. 68-656, 1968-2 C.B. 216. See also, Rev. Rul. 60-193, 1960-1 C.B. 195, and Rev. Rul. 62-71, 1962-1 C.B. 85.

IV. Conclusion

The application of the provisions of Section 501(c) (4) of the Code and Section 1.501(c) (4) -1(a) (2) of the Regulations and rulings issued thereunder to Citizens for the Republic, Inc. is clear and compelling. The Corporation will foster, promote, and assist the education of American citizens about the public policy and political vision of Ronald Wilson Reagan, and how his views and vision can be applied to current United States Government social, domestic and international policy, including long-term public policy and fiscal matters; unfunded liabilities in Social Security, Medicare, and other government retirement trust funds, and the long term viability of such trust funds and programs; and governmental policies, decisions, proposals, and legislation about those matters. The education of the public on such subjects is deemed beneficial to the community because society benefits from an informed citizenry.

In a 1975 magazine interview, Ronald Reagan said: "I believe the very heart and soul of conservatism is libertarianism... The basis of conservatism is a desire for less government interference or less centralized authority or more individual freedom and this is a pretty general description also of what libertarianism is."

Ronald Reagan Speaks Out

The results at Kansas City last August spelled the beginning, not the end, of conservative efforts to restore the moral and physical strength of America.

Formation of Citizens for the Republic is an early and, I believe, significant step in that direction.

When I announced in November, 1975, that I would be a candidate for president we knew, all of us, that the odds were overwhelming and that it was the beginning of an endeavor that, whether or not it led to the White House, must be undertaken.

Our nation had then and still has serious problems: Too high unemployment, too much inflation, too big a deficit, too large a federal government, too inadequate a defense capability, too little respect abroad, too little self-respect at home.

These problems still exist. But I believe our campaign did much to call the nation's attention to them, did much to convince Americans that they can be solved, that we can be strong, respected, and solvent, at we can again build America around its people, not around its government.

What About Carter's Appointments?

Congratulations are in order: When Jimmy Carter demonstrated appalling judgment by tapping Theodore Sorensen to head the Central Intelligence Agency, conservative columnists and then Republican politicians spoke out and forced the former Kennedy speech-writer to withdraw his name from consideration.

So much for the new President's monumental CIA blunder. But what about another of his appointments — that of campaign aide Greg Schneiders to the post of White House projects director?

Schneiders is to have "special responsibility for the movement of paper," giving him significant behind-the-scenes power in the Carter administration. The 29-year-old was in line for the more politically visible job of appointments secretary — until a routine FBI check documented what the media euphemistically termed "financial troubles" connected with his past business failures.

'Minor' Embarrassment

But even before the FBI check, according to the New York Times, Schneiders had been "a source of continuing though minor embarrassment to Mr. Carter for several months with his comments criticizing the Roman Catholic Church, his free admission to news representatives that he had been living unmarried with a woman for five years and his free acknowledgment of his history of financial troubles that included several bad debts, bounced checks, a suit by an accounting concern, nonpayment of rent and lawyer's fees and three trips to Small Claims court."

Despite all this, no one should be surprised to see Schneiders on the White House payroll, for he has been described by Los Angeles Times reporter Jack Nelson as "one of" (Continued on page 4.)

Reagan Forms CFR PAC

Ronald Reagan has announced formation of a political action committee dedicated to increasing public awareness and acceptance of conservative political philosophy and principles.

Gov. Reagan will take a leadership role in the organization, to be known as "Citizens for the Republic." Lyn Nofziger, who worked for Citizens for Reagan in the presidential campaign, is in charge of day-to-day operations.

CFR will perform a number of functions. It will support candidates for party, state and national offices. It will disseminate widely Reagan's views as well as those of his prominent supporters.

It will keep a careful watch on the Congress and the Administration and take public stands on policies with which Reagan disagrees. It will seek to serve as a focal point for speakers and organizations that share similar views.

Conservatives Are 'Members Of A Majority,' Declares Reagan

"Our task now is not to sell a philosophy, but to make the majority of Americans, who already share that philosophy, see that modern conservatism offers them a political home. We are not a cult, we are members of a majority. Let's act and talk like it."

With those words, Ronald Reagan presented a challenge to conservatives in his first major address of 1977. Speaking at a program of the Intercollegiate Studies Institute Jan. 15 in Washington, D.C., Gov. Reagan pointed to a recent poll which showed that 51 per cent of Americans consider themselves conservatives, 37 per cent identify themselves with liberalism, and 12 per cent place themselves in the middle.

Reagan noted that there are two kinds of conservatism — social and economic. The so-called social issues — law and order, abortion, busing, quota systems — are usually associated with blue-collar, ethnic and religious groups traditionally aligned with the Democratic Party. The economic issues — inflation, deficit spending and big government — are usually associated with Republican Party members and independents.

Basic Principles Shared

But, Reagan declared, it is possible to create a political entity that will reflect the views of both kinds of conservatism without compromising basic principles.

"I have always been puzzled by the inability of some political and media types to understand exactly what is meant by adherence to political principle," Reagan continued. "All too often in the press and television it is treated as a call for 'ideological purity'.

"Let us lay to rest, once and for all," Reagan declared, "the myth of a small group of ideological purists (conservatives) trying to capture a majority. Replace it with the reality of a majority trying to assert its rights against the tyranny of powerful academics, fashionable left-revolutionaries, some economic illiterates who happen to hold elective office and the social engineers who dominate the dialogue and set the format in political and social affairs."

GOP Proper Vehicle

Reagan stressed that the proper vehicle for promoting conservative principles is the Republican Party.

"I believe the Republican Party can and should provide the political mechanism through which the goals of the majority of Americans can be achieved. For one thing, the biggest single grouping of conservatives is to be found in that party. It makes more sense to build on that grouping than to break it up and start over. Rather than a third party, we can have a new first party made up of people who share our principles."

Reagan named two priorities for the GOP if it is again to become a force in national politics. It must shed "the country club-big business image that, for reasons both fair and unfair, it is burdened with today." Equally important, "the party of Lincoln" must begin to attract substantial numbers of black voters.

GOP Can Attract Blacks

The time has come, said Reagan, for Republicans to say to black voters: "Look, we offer principles that black Americans can, and do, support. We believe in jobs, real jobs; we believe in education that is really education; we believe in treating all Americans as individuals and not as stereotypes — and we believe that the long-range interest of Black America lies in looking at what each major party has to offer. And then deciding on the merits."

Reagan said that the principles of the "New Republican Party" he envisions should be the 1976 GOP Platform.

"Concern for the people is at the very heart of conservatism," he declared. "Concern for the dignity of all men; that those in need shall be helped to become independent — not lifetime recipients of a dole; concern that those who labor and produce will not be robbed of the fruit of their toil or their liberty. Concern that we shall not forfeit the dream that gave birth to this Nation — the dream that we can be as a shining city upon a hill — an 'alabaster city undimmed by human tears.'

"Believing in that dream," Reagan concluded, "I became a Republican and because of that dream I am conservative."

GOP Fields No Opposition To 44 Democrats

A little known statistic from the 1976 general election indicates perhaps better than anything else the current plight of the Republican Party.

A total of 42 Democratic members of the House of Representatives ran unchallenged by major opposition for re-election. Two Democratic senators also were unopposed.

On the Republican side, only six representatives had no major opposition. No Republican senators were unopposed.

Among unopposed Democrat representatives was Robert L.F. Sikes of Florida, who was officially reprimanded by the House for alleged use of his office for personal gain.

I believe the American people want to do these things. I believe they are fed up with big government and have lost faith in Big Brother. That is why today most of them, whether they realize it or not, subscribe to the principles which you and I know are basic Republican philosophy. Our job is to bring this to their attention.

If the combination of a Democrat president and a liberal Democrat Congress over the next four years gives us bigger government, less national defense, more deficit spending, more interference in our lives, we will see a new majority come together.

The people will know where to place the blame if prices continue to rise, if we continue our retreat abroad, if our defense weakens and our government swells and expands.

It is going to be up to Republicans and conservatives to propose and fight for viable alternatives — alternatives that are much more than just dressed-up, reshaped liberal Democrat proposals.

It is going to be up to Republicans to tell the people and sell the people on the merits of their platform, their principles, and their proposals.

That is where Citizens for the Republic comes in. CFR, the successor to Citizens for Reagan, will keep a close eye on the Democrats and will speak out when they are wrong. We intend to work and speak out for the Republican platform and Republican principles.

We intend to speak to the issues, pro and con, to support conservative Republican candidates and office holders. We intend to accept the continuing challenge of building the American dream within the two-party system.

With your help we can do it.

Ronald Reagan

GOP Blacks Could Have Backed Reagan

A prominent black leader believes many black delegates to the Republican National Convention last August would have voted for Ronald Reagan if they had not been legally bound.

Dr. Gloria Toote, who seconded Reagan's nomination, wired the CBS program "Sixty Minutes" after its Dec. 5 interview with Gov. Reagan that "your question as to minimum black delegate support indicated a lack of research into black delegate convention participation."

Dr. Toote, whose strong seconding speech was largely ignored by the media, is a former assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Currently she is president of the New York City Black Republican Council.

In her wire she pointed out that many black delegates were "unaware of the legally binding obligation of a delegate elected to support a particular candidate."

"This lack of knowledge aborted our strategy for a collective effort to bring focus to issues particular to our concerns; and denied many black delegates the opportunity after meeting with both candidates to indicate their personal preference," Dr. Toote told "Sixty Minutes."

Noting that she has yet to receive a "negative comment" for seconding Gov. Reagan, Dr. Toote invited "Sixty Minutes" to attend a meeting of her organization. "I assure you, you will find political awareness and appreciation for the need of the leadership of a man who before the convention and thereafter called for broadening the base of the Republican Party," Dr. Toote said.

UnafFORDable

By this time, the Carter administration is busy on its version of the federal budget for fiscal 1978, and comparisons will be made with the $440 billion budget submitted by former President Ford.

Lest we forget, that budget calls for a $47 billion deficit. Fiscal conservatives should demand cutting the deficit far below $47 billion, regardless of whose budget it is.

WORTH QUOTING

"In effect, the (Ford) foundation is a creature of capitalism—a statement that, I'm sure, would be shocking to many professional staff people in the field of philanthropy. It is hard to discern recognition of this fact in anything the foundation does. It is even more difficult to find an understanding of this in many of the institutions, particularly the universities, that are the beneficiaries of the foundation's grant programs..... Perhaps it is time for the trustees and staff to examine the question of our obligations to our economic system and to consider how the foundation as one of the system's most prominent offspring, might act most wisely to strengthen its progenitor." — Henry Ford 2d in a letter announcing his resignation after 33 years as a trustee of the Ford Foundation.

"Obscene." — John Kenneth Galbraith's word for tax cuts.

Carter's most trusted advisers during the presidential campaign. . . . spending more time with (Carter) than any other person and controlling access to him."

Could Ford Have Done It?

And how about Carter crony Griffin B. Bell, the new Attorney General? Is it really of no consequence that the man who must enforce the nation's civil rights laws was so insensitive that he belonged to two clubs which bar Blacks and Jews from membership? Would a Democrat Congress have let Gerald Ford get away with this kind of appointment?

Americans may also wonder about United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young, who says "we need a strong Vietnam" to be a "buffer against China." Presumably that would involve admitting into the UN the totalitarian regime which conquered and enslaved the 19 million people in its once independent southern half. In fact, Vietnam's record on human rights is so bad that even Joan Baez has protested.

As Secretary of Defense, Mr. Carter chose a man whose selection "was welcomed by leaders in the arms control community," according to the New York Times. "Harold (Brown) can be expected to raise less ifs, ands and buts than Jim Schlesinger," commented one unnamed member of the "arms control community." For non-Times readers, this "community" consists of those who worry more about controlling U.S. arms than Soviet arms.

Big Spender Back at HEW

On the domestic front, the new President has tapped Washington insider par excellence Joseph Califano to head up the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He is "the same man who burdened that sprawling department with all of LBJ's expensive social schemes," as columnist J.F. terHorst put it.

Almost as strange as Mr. Carter's appointments, however, is the silence of the Republican minority (with a few exceptions) about them. It is time Republicans in and out of the Congress began to speak out before their silence is taken for agreement.

Reagan Pledges Brock Support

The Republican National Committee has elected Bill Brock party chairman. The former Tennessee senator, a conservative and a vigorous supporter of the Republican platform, immediately received the pledge of Ronald Reagan to work with him to make the GOP the party of America's conservative majority.

Reagan urged conservatives to look on Brock as an ally in the struggle against the liberal Democrats in Congress and the Carter administration.

Reuss Rolls Right

Is the new Democratic Congress going to turn over a new leaf? Don't hold your breath, but Henry Reuss, a liberal Democrat from Wisconsin, after meeting with a group of business men, said: "We are a free enterprise society, and I tried to make the businessmen understand that the Democrats are not going to create uncontrollable inflation, slap on wage and price controls, start allocating credit or anything like that."

Rep. Reuss's constituents have heard what he said. They should watch with careful interest what he does.

Russ Up; U.S. Down

"We are looking at about 15 years of steady, purposeful effort on the part of the Soviet Union (to build up military capability), and ten to 15 years of the U.S., for a variety of reasons, reducing its level of effort." — Donald Rumsfeld, outgoing Secretary of Defense, commenting in Time.

Urges Strapping Buck

"I resent issuing a new currency to make up for the inflated dollar. They should try to make a dollar worth a dollar instead." — Pittsburgh student quoted in Wall Street Journal article on the flop of the two dollar bill.

To educate the general public about issues of interest to American citizens concerning the life, times and philosophy of President Ronald Wilson Reagan, and his views about the United States Government social and domestic policy, in particular, his philosophy of limited government, expanded freedom and democracy worldwide, limiting unchecked

Section 2. Principal and Other Offices. The Corporation shall have a principal business office, and may also have such other offices, at such place or places within or without the Commonwealth of Virginia as the Board of Directors may, from time to time, designate and as the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Purpose

Section 1. Nature of Corporation. The Corporation is a nonprofit corporation formed under the Nonstock Corporation Act of the Commonwealth of Virginia, which is organized and shall be exclusively operated for educational and social welfare purposes in accordance with the provisions of Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code and the Regulations promulgated and applicable rulings issued thereunder.

Section 2. Primary Purpose. The Corporation is organized and shall be exclusively operated in accordance with its Articles of Incorporation, and amendments thereto permitted by law, filed with the State Corporation Commission of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

ARTICLE III

Members

The Corporation shall have no Members.

ARTICLE IV

Board of Directors

Section 1. General Powers. The Board of Directors shall have the exclusive power to manage and control the affairs and property of the Corporation, and shall have full power, by majority vote, to adopt rules and regulations governing the action of the Board.

Section 2. Standard of Conduct. Each Director, in his capacity as such and including any duties as a member of any committee of the Corporation as provided in Article VI, shall discharge his duties in accordance with his good faith judgment of the best interest of the Corporation. Generally, a Director shall be entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports or statements, including but not limited to financial statements and other financial data, prepared or presented by any officer, employee, committee or outside advisor which the Director, in good faith, believes to be reliable and competent in the matters being addressed, unless he has knowledge or information concerning the matter in question that makes such reliance unwarranted.

Section 3. Number, Qualifications, Election, and Tenure of Directors. The number of Directors constituting the Board of Directors of the Corporation shall be three (3). Directors need not be residents of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The initial Board of Directors shall be composed of those individuals elected or appointed by the Incorporator of the Corporation. Each initial Director shall hold office from the date of his election or appointment by the Incorporator until the first annual meeting of the Board of Directors or until his successor is elected and qualified. At each annual meeting of the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected to the Board of Directors for a one (1) year term of office and until their respective successors are elected and qualified. Each successor Director shall hold office for a term of one (1) year. Election to the Board of Directors shall be by majority vote of the then members of the Board of Directors.

Section 4. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors that shall occur prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled by such persons as shall be elected thereto by majority vote of the remaining members of the Board of Directors. A Director so elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office.

Section 5. Removal. Any Director may be removed, with or without cause, by the Board of Directors upon an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the remaining members of the Board of Directors whenever, in its judgment, the best interests of the Corporation would be served thereby.

Section 6. Annual Meetings. An annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held each year at such time and place, either within or without the Commonwealth of Virginia, as shall be designated by the President of the Corporation or by resolution of the Board of Directors.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President of the Corporation or any two (2) of the Directors. The person or persons authorized to call special meetings of the Board of Directors may fix any place, either within or without the Commonwealth of Virginia, as the place for holding any special meeting of the Board called by them.

Section 8. Notice. Notice of any meeting of the Board of Directors shall be given at least seven (7) days previous thereto, either verbally in person or by telephone, or by written notice delivered personally, sent by mail or by facsimile transmission to each Director at his or her address as shown in the records of the Corporation. If verbal notice, such notice shall be deemed effective when communicated if the communication is in a reasonable and comprehensible manner. If written notice, such notice shall be deemed effective either when delivered or transmitted by facsimile to the recipient or when deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope so addressed. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting. The attendance of or participation by a Director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon his arrival expresses his objection to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and he does not thereafter vote for or assent to any action taken at the meeting. The business to be transacted at, and the purpose of, any meeting of the Board of Directors need not be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 9. Quorum. A majority of the total number of members of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board; but, if less than a quorum of Directors is present at said meeting, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

Section 10. Manner of Acting. Each member of the Board of Directors shall be entitled to vote. The Board of Directors shall act only by a majority vote at a meeting at which a quorum is present, unless the act of a greater number is required by law or by these By-laws; and, the Directors present at a duly organized meeting may continue to do business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough Directors to leave less than a quorum. Members of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of such Board by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment whereby all persons participating by such means shall be able to hear all other participants and such participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at such a meeting. A written record shall be made of the action taken at each meeting.

Section 11. Compensation. Directors as such shall not receive any stated salaries for their services, but by resolution of the Board of Directors an honorarium and expenses may be allowed for attendance at each annual or special meeting of the Board; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 12. Informal Action by Directors. Any action required, which may be taken at a meeting of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the Directors.

Section 13. Resignation of Directors. A Director may resign from the Board of Directors at any time by giving written notice of his resignation addressed to the President or Secretary of the Corporation, or by presenting his written resignation at an annual or special meeting of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE V

Officers

Section 1. Officers. The officers of the Corporation shall be a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer and such other offices as may be elected in accordance with the provisions of this Article. The Board of Directors may elect or appoint such other officers, including a Chairman, one or more Vice Presidents, one or more Assistant Secretaries, and one or more Assistant Treasurers, as it shall deem desirable, such officers

Section 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the Corporation shall be elected by the Board of Directors at the organization meeting of the Corporation and, thereafter, at each annual meeting of the Board. If the election of officers shall not be held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as conveniently may be. New offices may be created and filled at any meeting of the Board of Directors. Each officer shall hold office for a term of one (1) year and until his or her successor shall have been duly elected and qualified.

Section 3. Removal. Any officer elected or appointed by the Board of Directors may be removed by the Board upon an affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors whenever, in its judgment, the best interests of the Corporation would be served thereby.

Section 4. Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise, shall be filled by such person as shall be elected thereto by majority vote of the Board of Directors. An officer so elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of his predecessor in office.

Section 5. President. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Corporation and shall, in general supervise and conduct the daily affairs of the Corporation. In the absence of a Chairman, the President shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors as Chairman of the Board of Directors. The President may sign, with the Secretary or any other proper officer of the Corporation authorized by the Board of Directors, any deed, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the Board of Directors has authorized to be executed, except in the cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board of Directors or by these By-laws or by statute to some other officer or agent of the Corporation; and, in general, he or she shall perform all duties incident to the office of President and such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 7. Treasurer. in accordance with the provisions of Article VII of these By-laws; and, in general, perform all the duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the President or by the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall, if required by the Board of Directors, give a bond for the faithful discharge of his or her duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the Board of Directors may determine.

Section 8. Secretary. The Secretary shall keep the minutes of the meetings of the Board of Directors in one or more books provided for that purpose; see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these By-laws or as required by law; be custodian of the corporate records and of the seal of the Corporation and see that the seal of the Corporation is affixed to all documents, the execution of which on behalf of the Corporation under this seal is duly authorized in accordance with the provisions of these By-laws; keep a register of the post office address of each Director which shall be furnished to the Secretary by such Director; and, in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the President or by the Board of Directors.

Section 9. Assistant Secretaries and Assistant Treasurers. ARTICLE VI

Section 1. Executive Committee of Directors. The Board of Directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may designate and appoint an Executive Committee, which shall consist of two or more Directors, one of whom shall be the President of the Corporation, which committee shall have and exercise the authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the Corporation during the intervals between meetings; provided, however, that such committee shall not have the authority of the Board of Directors in reference to amending, altering or repealing the By-laws; electing, appointing or removing any Director of the Corporation; amending the Articles of Incorporation; adopting a plan of merger or adopting a plan of consolidation with another corporation; authorizing the sale, lease, exchange or mortgage of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the Corporation; authorizing the voluntary dissolution of the Corporation or revoking proceedings therefor; or amending, altering or repealing any resolution of the Board of Directors which by its term provides that it shall not be amended, altered or repealed by such committee. The designation and appointment of any such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the Board of Directors, or any individual Director, of any responsibility imposed upon it or him or her by law.

Section 2. Advisory and Other Committees. The Board of Directors may also appoint such other committees, including an Advisory Committee, as the Board may determine, which shall have such powers and duties as shall from time to time be prescribed by the Board. The President shall be a member ex-officio of each Committee appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Term of Office. Each member of a committee shall continue as a member thereof until the next annual meeting of the Directors of the Corporation and until his or her successor is appointed, unless the committee shall be sooner terminated, or unless such member be removed from such committee, or unless such member shall cease to qualify as a member thereof.

Section 4. Chairman of Committees. One member of each committee shall be appointed Chairman thereof; provided, however, that the President of the Corporation shall be the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the membership of any committee may be filled by appointments made in the same manner as provided in the case of the original appointments.

Section 6. Quorum. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution of the Board of Directors designating a committee, a majority of the whole committee shall constitute a quorum and the act of a majority of the members present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the committee.

Section 7. Rules. Each committee may adopt rules for its own government not inconsistent with these By-laws or with rules adopted by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VII

The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or officers, agent or agents of the Corporation, in addition to the officers so authorized by these By-laws, to enter into a contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 2. Checks, Drafts, etc. All checks, drafts or orders for the payment of money, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers, agent or agents of the Corporation and in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors.
